MOA Online Testing

Monday, July 18, 2011

Welcome to online testing for the Montana Officials' Association!

Each sport available for testing will be listed on the following page - the "testing dashboard".

Please be certain to choose the correct exam for your individual situation:

Apprentice exams – Prospective (new) officials or officials adding a new sport will always take the apprentice exam, as will any late paying or reinstating officials at the apprentice level. The minimum score required to pass the apprentice exam is 60%.

Certified exams – Officials upgrading to the certified level (be certain to submit a written request to the MOA a minimum of seven (7) days prior to the opening date of the exam) will take the certified exam, as will any late paying or reinstating officials at the certified level. The minimum score required to pass the certified exam is 80%.

Master exams – Officials upgrading to the master level ((be certain to submit a written request to the MOA a minimum of seven (7) days prior to the opening date of the exam) will take the master exam, as will any late paying or reinstating officials at the master level. The minimum score required to pass the master exam is 85%.

If you have any questions regarding online exams, including which exam you should be taking, please contact Amy Bartels at 406-442-6010 or abartels@mhsa.org.
